

Nelson Rockefeller Named Veep

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford today nominated Nelson A. Rockefeller to be vice president, saying the former New York governor will "make a great teammate."

NELSON ROCKEFELLER

The choice is subject to congressional approval, a virtual certainty.

Rockefeller said he was deeply honored at the call to serve Ford and "through him all the people of this great country."

Ford said he was confident

Rockefeller will be approved by the required majorities in the House and Senate. "I wouldn't have picked someone who wouldn't be," the President said.

Ford presented Rockefeller in a nationally televised, Oval Office ceremony. Then he took his chosen partner to the White House press room, where Rockefeller, answering questions, said he assumes Ford will be a candidate for election to the presidency in 1976.

Rockefeller, 66, said he had not discussed the political future with Ford. Asked who he thought would be on the ticket with Ford in 1976, Rockefeller replied: "You're way down the road ahead of me."

Formally announcing the nomination, Ford said Rockefeller will be "a good partner for me and I think a good partner for our country and the world."

Then, in the press room, he added: "I think he'll make a great teammate. I think he will be good for the country. I think he'll be good for the world and I'm looking forward to working with him."

At his brief news conference, Rockefeller, a member of one of the nation's wealthiest families, fended off questions about his personal finances, but said he will make whatever disclosures are required in the congressional confirmation process.

He refused to divulge his net worth at the news conference, bluntly telling questioners: "You're not the committee of Congress."

"I will do two things," he said. "I will conform totally with whatever the law requires and I will answer any questions members of Congress feel appropriate."

As for his vast holdings, he said he assumed they would be placed in trust.

Ford said the selection was "a tough call." Rockefeller said the President first contacted him directly Saturday — the day the White House dismissed published allegations that Rockefeller money had financed efforts to disrupt the 1972 Democratic National Convention.

Rockefeller said Ford told him Monday night that he was the choice for vice president.

From the time Richard M. Nixon resigned on Aug. 9, Rockefeller had been rated a prime prospect in vice presidential speculation.

His name and that of Republican National Chairman George Bush dominated the 11-day guessing game. Ford managed to keep his secret until the formal announcement.

Bush said the choice of Rockefeller was outstanding; that "one couldn't find a man of more stature and who possesses more administrative ability."

Following the question-and-answer session with reporters, Rockefeller was to fly to Maine to continue his vacation, going first to Bal Harbor and then to Seal Harbor.

Rockefeller, at Ford's side in the Oval Office of the President, said he came to the job in "very serious times," requiring the closest cooperation between Congress and the White House.

"They also require the dedication of every American to our common national interest," Rockefeller said. He said Ford's dedication and openness already have "reawakened faith and hope" in America.

Rockefeller said Americans have the will, determination and ability "to overcome the hard realities of our times."

"I'm optimistic about the long term future," Rockefeller said.

With that, congressional leaders and the Cabinet, assembled for the nationally televised announcement, applauded the new vice president-designate.

Ford said he made the choice "after a great deal of soulsearching," after considering the advice of members of Congress and Republican leaders around the country.

"It was a tough call for a tough job," Ford said.

Ford called Rockefeller "a person whose long record of accomplishments in the government and outside is well known."

Rockefeller, 66, served 15 years as governor of New York, resigning last November to head his own commission on the problems facing America.

Rockefeller had twice run for the White House. His resignation was widely regarded as a move to position himself for a third campaign in 1976.

Before striding from the Oval Office, Rockefeller walked down the line of congressional leaders and Cabinet officers who were present for Ford's announcement, shaking hands and accepting smiling congratulations.

The ceremony was brief but carefully orchestrated, Ford entering from a side door to the Oval Office desk he assumed 11 days ago upon the resignation of Richard M. Nixon.

Before he uttered Rockefeller's name, Ford traced the record of the former governor: service in the State Department under two presidents, in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, as governor of New York longer than any other man.

"He is known across the land as a person dedicated to the free enterprise system, a person who is recognized abroad for his talents, for his dedication to making this a peaceful world," Ford said.

Describing the selection process, Ford said he had considered men — he hastily added women were considered too — in and out of government.

"But after a long and very thoughtful process, I have made the choice and that choice is Nelson Rockefeller of New York State," he said.

President Pushes Vietnam Amnesty With Conditions

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford's surprise offer of leniency to Vietnam-era war evaders has muted congressional critics of any form of amnesty and opened a new debate on the degree of forgiveness the nation should extend.

Many congressional leaders agree with Ford that blanket immunity is not an appropriate remedy.

But many said that some form of conditional amnesty, probably alternative civilian service, is needed to end the voluntary exile of thousands of young men.

In a major shift in policy from the past two administrations, Ford told the national convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Chicago on Monday that his administration proposes a policy of "earned re-entry."

"So I am throwing the weight of my presidency into the scales of justice on the side of leniency. I foresee their earned re-entry into a new atmosphere of hope, hard work, and mutual trust."

Ford said, "As I reject amnesty, so do I reject revenge."

"In my judgment, these young Americans should have a second chance to contribute their fair share to the rebuilding of peace among ourselves..."

He said he had ordered Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe and Defense Secretary James R. Schlesinger to begin a case-by-case review of 50,000 men convicted, charged or sought for draft evasion or desertion.

A Justice Department spokesman said the department is "seeking a meeting as early as possible with Department of Defense and Selective Service officials" to examine ways to accomplish the objective Ford announced.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., who has favored complete amnesty for those who opposed the war as a matter of conscience, called Ford's initiative "a fresh breeze from the White House."

"He's opening the door," said assistant Senate Republican Leader Robert P. Griffin of Michigan. "I think it's a courageous and appropriate move..."

Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania said an approach to conditional amnesty is one of the measures he has urged on the White House.

Sen. Howard H. Baker Jr., R-Tenn., said "I think it was a very right thing to do..."

Some members of Congress said they expected Ford's announcement will lead to a revival of attempts to pass legislation offering a period of civilian service in exchange for amnesty.

Others said they believe only the President can offer amnesty but that Congress might be asked to express a formal opinion.

Sens. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, and Claiborne Pell, D-R.I., have had conditional amnesty legislation pending since 1971.

Their bill would grant amnesty to draft evaders willing to serve two years in either the armed services or in a civilian agency. The bill offers no relief to deserters.

Rep. William J. Scherle, R-Iowa said: "I have sympathy and compassion but I've got to reserve that for the 1,200 missing POWs and MIAs. My first consideration is for them. Once this is attained, we can think about those who deserted and dodged the draft and fled to a foreign country..."

Congress Approves Inflation Council

WASHINGTON (AP) — Both the House and Senate have passed a bill embodying President Ford's first big legislative request: Authority to set up an agency to monitor price and wage hikes.

The House on Monday cleared the measure, 379 to 23, and the Senate followed suit a few hours later, 83 to 3. The two houses now must hold a conference to reconcile the relatively minor differences.

Sen. John J. Sparkman, D-Ala., Senate manager of the bill, said he was sure a compromise version would be sent to the President before Congress leaves on a late summer recess at the end of the week.

The legislation contains no powers to re-invoke price and wage controls.

Some Democrats said they doubted strongly whether the bill would do anything effective about controlling inflation.

But Sparkman argued that Congress should honor Ford's request and at least let him give the monitoring agency a try.

In the Senate several Democrats tried to beef up the measure with an amendment giving the President powers to delay price or wage increases for up to 90 days. This proposal was defeated 50 to 34.

The agency would be called a Council on Wage and Price Stability under the Senate measure, while the House version would name it the Cost of Living Task Force.

It would be set up in the White House with eight members and four advisers, all named by Ford.

The agency would conduct public hearings on inflationary problems; receive reports on prices, wages, profits, costs and sales; focus attention on the need to increase productivity; seek to improve collective bargaining and encourage price restraint, and analyze demand and supply in various sectors of the economy.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., tried to add to the Senate bill a rider directing Ford to make cuts of up to $10 billion in the current fiscal year's $305 billion budget submitted by former President Richard M. Nixon.

He conceded it would be hard to do this but declared the "raging inflation" demanded nothing less.

However, several senators strongly opposed the proposal, declaring it would encourage presidential impoundments and let Ford set spending priorities.

The amendment was beaten, 58 to 28.

Seek Trio In Ambassador's Death

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Warrants were issued in Nicosia today for the arrest of three persons in connection with the slaying of the U.S. ambassador to Cyprus, Rodger P. Davies.

Davies was killed during an anti-American riot at the embassy in Nicosia on Monday, and Greek, Turkish and Cypriot leaders expressed shock and abhorrence over the slaying.

The names of the three suspects and further details of the police investigation into the riot were not disclosed in an official Greek Cypriot government statement, announcing the issue of the warrants.

American sources in Nicosia said the U.S. Embassy in the battle-scarred Cypriot capital might be closed temporarily, and an official said unessential files were being burned "to make the job quicker if we decide to go."

But there was no indication from the State Department in Washington of any such action. Lindsay Grant, the embassy's second in command, was

Park Accepts Resignations In Slaying

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Thirty-nine of President Chung Hee Park's top government and political associates resigned today in the wake of last week's assassination attempt on Park. The gesture was a symbolic one that's customary in Korea after embarrassing incidents.

The president, however, accepted the resignations of only two men: Home Minister Hong Sung-chul, whose ministry controls the police, and the chief presidential bodyguard, Park Chong-kyoo, one of his most trusted aides.

The resignations were to show that the men assumed responsibility for the failure of the security forces to prevent the attempt on Park's life.

Park named Park Kyongwon, 51, as himself a retired army general, to be home minister. Park said he would name a new chief of the presidential protective force in a few days.

The new home minister has served twice previously in that capacity and once as communications minister under President Park.

Resignations had poured in from Premier Kim Jong-pil; the 14 members of his cabinet; the top five officials of Park's ruling Democratic Republic party; the national police director; mayor and police chief of Seoul; Korea's ambassador to Japan; Park's chief secretary and chief protocol officer; four economic and political assistants; Park Chong-kyoo and eight other senior officials of the presidential protective service.

flown from a vacation in Scotland to replace Davies.

There were these other developments in the Cyprus situation:

—The civilian government in Greece increased its authority over the military by firing the commander in chief of the armed forces and his eight top officers and replacing them with foes of the ousted military junta.

—Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger said Turkey had expressed willingness to negotiate a withdrawal from part of the 40 per cent of Cyprus its troops have occupied.

—Turkish troops that pushed south of Nicosia over the weekend held their positions but made no significant advances. Little fighting was reported Monday.

Slot Machines For Churches Next?

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Slot machines, poker and craps could replace bingo cards at Friday night church socials in Ohio.

So could roulette, a lottery or a numbers game.

All are defined in the new Ohio Criminal Code as being among schemes or games of chance that in most instances are illegal.

But the definition excludes schemes or games of chance designed to produce income for charity.

Necessary expenses may be deducted from such income. Otherwise, the law requires only that all net income go for charity.

David Bodiker, a Columbus attorney who set up a statewide peace officer's instruction program on the code, confirmed this.

"A slot machine used for charitable purposes is legal," Bodiker said.

Coalfields Silent

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — Operations across much of the nation's coalfields remained silent today as a week-long shutdown commemorating the deaths of those who died in the mines moved into its second day.

The "memorial period," called by the leadership United Mine Workers, has affected about 115,000 soft-coal miners in a dozen states who dig about 75 per cent of the nation's coal, the union said.

A rally today at the union's Washington, D.C., was expected to draw a few thousand of miners from coal producing areas throughout Appalachia.

Harold Mowery, board member of District 6 which covers some 10,000 miners in Ohio and West Virginia's Northern Panhandle, said nine busloads of miners were to leave Bellaire, Ohio, early today for the Washington rally. Ten buses were to have left southwestern Pennsylvania's rich underground coal region and in West Virginia UMW organizers say they have organized transportation for hundreds of miners.

The union has said the main target of today's gathering will be James Day, acting administrator of the Interior Department's Mining Enforcement and Safety Administration—MESA. UMW President Arnold Miller has complained that Day is more interested in protecting the companies than the safety of the miners, and wants the Senate to reject his nomination as the head of MESA.

In a rally Monday at Fairmont, W.Va., which kicked off the five-day shutdown, UMW Vice President Mike Trobovich said critics of the memorial "say it's not in the national interest. But neither is the slaughter of coal miners in the nation."

"Friday night bingo at a church is legal, so long as it is not for profit."

"The fundamental thrust is to prohibit the business of gambling."

He said gambling is illegal when it is:

—Carried on as a business;
—For personal profit;
—A significant source of income.

The code prohibits gambling in a public place. Its definition of a public place is open for interpretation.

A quick search revealed no definition of a charitable organization. Bodiker said such questions probably would be left for courts to decide.

The law could be tested as a result of a raid on an Elks Club in Steubenville last week. State liquor agents confiscated four slot machines there.

The club was cited for violating its liquor license by permitting gambling devices in a place where liquor is served.

John J. Mascio, Steubenville city solicitor, said he felt use of the machines was legal.

"The statute permits a game of chance to be used, provided all net proceeds go for charity, after deducting necessary expenses," Mascio said. "The use to which they were put here, I didn't feel, was a violation of the state gambling law."

Mascio said the machines were locked in a room and not available to club guests at the time of the raid.

"Selling whisky would enter into it," he added. "I don't know if they violated liquor laws."

Mascio said he wrote Steubenville unite Cyprus with Greece and which helped to overthrow President Makarios on July 15.

Although hundreds of the demonstrators broke through the embassy gates and stoned the building and its U.S. Marine guard, an embassy official said bullet holes showed that the shots came from rooftops or balconies of neighboring buildings and the ambassador's second-floor office was clearly the target.

Davies and members of his staff had taken refuge in a corridor outside his office. He was killed by a bullet that went through his office and his secretary's office. Another shot killed a Greek Cypriot secretary who rushed to the 53-year-old ambassador's side.

Mayor William Crabbe on Aug. 12, the day of the raid, that he felt slot machines at the club was legal.

He said he understood the club determined before getting slot machines that all profits would go to charitable causes.

Bodiker noted the new law prohibits gambling for any reason at hotels, restaurants, taverns, stores, arenas, halls or other places of public accommodation.

"Betting and playing games of chance in public is prohibited," Bodiker said. "This includes football bets at a stadium."

"But it does not prohibit schemes or games of chance so long as they are for charitable purposes. A raffle to raise money for band uniforms could be charitable."

Government Bids To Restore Good Relations With Greece

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is trying to smooth its relations with Greece while awaiting an undisclosed British initiative for setting up new Cyprus peace talks.

Britain, a guarantor of the 1960 treaty establishing the island's independence, is expected to sound out the Greek and Turkish Cypriots before enlisting U.S. aid and reviving the Geneva conference.

Knowledgeable U.S. officials believe Britain is likely to try to work out some preference agreements so that when the parties, including Greece and Turkey, return to the negotiating table there are reasonable prospects of success. A breakdown in Geneva preceded the onslaught by Turkish forces that led to their control of about 40 per cent of Cyprus.

In a gesture to Athens, which strongly suspects Washington of having tilted toward Turkey, Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger told a news conference on Monday that "upon calmer reflection the responsible Greek leaders will recognize that the United States has shown deep sympathy for the Greek government."

Kissinger added "we welcome the present democratic government in Greece" and any negotiated settlement must be "consistent with the dignity and honor of all of the parties."

He said the first imperative at this point is to "get the parties to the conference table."

Kissinger spoke of a British initiative in this regard, but other officials here said the details of the British approach were not yet clear.

Kissinger said he has received assurances from Premier Bulent Ecevit that Turkey is willing to negotiate a pullback from positions it holds on Cyprus and that it would reduce its forces on the island.

"We believe it will be necessary for Turkey, as the stronger power on the ground, to display flexibility and a concern for Greek sensibilities," Kissinger said.

Chairman Benjamin S. Rosenthal of the House Europe subcommittee said he will move to suspend all $242 million in U.S. aid to Turkey despite her pledge to negotiate.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market turned upward today in a technical rebound from the deep declines of the past eight sessions.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up more than 9 points a few minutes after the opening, the gainers took a 5-2 lead over losers on the New York Stock Exchange.

Brokers said the market appeared to have been gathering the makings of a technical recovery late in Monday's trading, when prices recovered a small chunk of the ground they had lost earlier in the session.

They said President Ford's designation of former New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller as his vice presidential nominee might have been taken as a positive factor by some investors. They noted Rockefeller was expected to be confirmed quickly by Congress, filling in the constitutional chain of succession to the presidency.

But Wall Streeters noted that the market's internal workings by themselves seemed to call for an upswing after the declines that had chopped 75 points from the Dow since Aug. 7.

Today's prices included Avon Products, up 1/8 at 25 3/4; Bausch & Lomb, up 1/2 at 27 1/2; Braniff International, unchanged at 8, and Cities Service, ahead a point at 42 1/4.

One-Man Utility Now Wants Out

LOWPOINT, Ill. (AP) — For 32 years, Lynn L. Banta has operated a one-man utility providing water to this tiny Midwestern village. Now he wants out.

Residents will vote in a referendum Aug. 31 on whether to form a water district to take over the Lowpoint Water Co. And Banta says he doesn't even want to remain on as a trustee.

"I would prefer to have nothing further to do with it," said Banta, 63, who lives in Peoria. "I think 32 years is probably long enough for one individual. They might have somebody else who could do a lot better job, really."

Lowpoint is a quiet rural community in Woodford County with a population of about 250. But Banta, who also operates four grain elevators, has problems not unlike the giant utilities that serve metropolitan areas.

"It hasn't been that much of a care really," he said. "We handle our bookkeeping right through our regular grain office."

"But we do have to go around and read the meters. And if for some reason or another a pump goes out and you don't have water tomorrow morning you get about a dozen phone calls awfully quick," he said.

The water works was set up in the early 1900s to serve the employees of Banta Bros. Inc., which ran a general store, "but since that time it grew until everybody seemingly wanted in on it," said Banta.

"I acquired the assets of this mercantile business in 1942 and the waterworks went right along with it," he said. "So there was no way of getting away from it, I guess."

Banta says he has added seven blocks of mains, had new wells drilled and put in fluoridation and chlorination systems. State water control regulations have become constantly tougher and this has added to the burden, he said.

Banta's firm serves about 55 customers. It employs a licensed water superintendent on a part-time basis, plus someone else to read the meters every three months. But Banta says it has not been a particularly profitable operation.

Banta says the Lowpoint Water Co.'s flat rate of $4.50 a quarter for all but quantity users has remained unchanged from the time he acquired the firm. Quantity users pay $1 for the first thousand gallons of water, 80 cents for the second, 55 cents for the third and 50 cents for each additional thousand gallons.

He says he pays $40 to $70 quarterly for water at his Peoria home.

Banta thinks that because of his age someone else should take over but he's not certain village residents will vote to go along.

Can Lid Shortage Plagues Americans

NEW YORK (AP) — A worsening shortage of tin plate and soda ash has made still another consumer product hard to get: Canning jars and tin lids.

The shortage is especially pressing this time of year as many parts of the nation are in the midst of harvest time or near it.

Manufacturers of the jars and tin lids, including the two biggest, Ball Corp. of Muncie, Ind., and Kerr Glass Manufacturing Corp. of Los Angeles, say they are being besieged by angry customers from every state wondering why their stores have run out of canning jars.

W.A. Kerr, president of Kerr Glass, says he has heard reports of black markets in at least four states—Utah, North Carolina, West Virginia and Georgia.

Because of rising food prices, unprecedented numbers of Americans are canning their own peaches, pears, apples and berries. In fact, Kerr says demand for canning jars and lids has grown some 170 per cent this past year.

But the firms haven't been able to keep pace with the demand.

Kerr said steel makers that make tin plate—U.S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Jones & Laughlin and Youngstown Sheet and Tube—are having to allocate their resources to cope with heavy worldwide demand.

He says U.S. Steel just notified him that tin supplies will be curtailed even further in the fourth quarter of 1974.

And, he said, there is a two-year-old shortage of soda ash, necessary for the manufacture of glass products.

Kerr says that a forced shutdown by the Environmental Protection Agency of a Pittsburgh Plate Glass plant in Barberton, Ohio, and an Olin Chemical Co. plant in Saltville, Va.—both for water pollution violations—touched off that shortage.

Young Girl Gunned Down In 'Mistake'

HIGHLAND PARK, Mich. (AP) — "That family worked so hard, they tried to make a decent living," said Sue Amaral.

Mrs. Amaral is a neighbor of the Marion Perchman family, hit doubly by tragedy over the weekend.

Perchman's daughter, Edith, 12, died on Sunday when gunfire erupted from the house of a subscriber on her Detroit Free Press newspaper route. She was hit in the face with shotgun pellets, and 15 pistol bullets were pumped into her body, police said.

Perchman, who drove a delivery truck for the Free Press, was driving his daughter around her early morning route and was waiting for her in his car outside the residence of Rudolph Acosta when she was shot. He pulled her into his automobile and sped away, but the car door flew open and he lost control of the vehicle which crashed into a house.

Perchman suffered broken ribs and was hospitalized in fair condition.

Police charged Rudolph Acosta, 24, with manslaughter and freed him on $2,500 bond. However, police Monday changed the charge to second-degree murder after hundreds of enraged citizens of this community of 33,000 marched on city hall and demanded his arrest.

Officers said Acosta mistook the girl for a "hit man" with a contract on his life. They theorized Acosta's murder was ordered as part of a drug-related family feud.

Acosta's attorney said Acosta would surrender on Wednesday.

At the Perchman home on Monday, relatives and neighbors milled about in the hot afternoon sun.

"You can't let a man kill a little girl and get away with it," shouted one man.

Police Probe Mugging, Break-In

Circleville Police are investigating a mugging and breaking and entering report.

Thomas Mumaw, 23, 329 E. Huston St., told police he was walking to his home Tuesday at 12:08 a.m. when he was jumped from behind by two unidentified assailants.

The thugs knocked him to the ground. He suffered five cuts to his left arm.

Ida Petty, 343 E. High St., told police that her house had been ransacked while she was away for the weekend.

She said doors to the bedroom and living room were opened and a beer was taken from the refrigerator.

Entry was gained by removing a window screen on the south side of the house.

No injuries were reported. Tornadoes also were seen near Burnstead, Napoleon and Wishek, N.D. Heavy hail accompanied twister sightings near Lehr.

Winds gusting to 40 miles per hour hit Glasgow, Mont., today.

Mild thundershowers were widely scattered, stretching from the Northern Plains to Colorado, Nebraska and Minnesota and sprinkled along the southern Atlantic Coast and in the southern Rockies.

But most of the nation had fair and mild weather.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 40 at Elko, Nev., to 95 at Phoenix, Ariz.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

No Dinner At The Captain's Table

DEAR ABBY: My husband is 49, a wonderful man in all respects, and I dearly love him.

I am 43, but I'm told I look a lot younger. Not to brag, but I'm also attractive.

Living in our apartment building is a handsome, 40-year-old Army captain. (He's a bachelor.) My husband travels a lot, and this bachelor told me if I ever got bored or lonely when my husband is away, I should call him and he will invite me over for a gourmet dinner. (He belongs to a gourmet club and loves to cook.)

So far I haven't taken up on it, but I've thought about it. I've been a faithful wife all these years and have no intentions of being otherwise. I told my husband about this captain's invitation, and he said: "I don't like the idea. It's not that I don't trust you, but I wouldn't trust any man alone with a beautiful woman. Also, I don't want to give the neighbors anything to gossip about."

Abby, shouldn't a woman my age be allowed to do what she wants to do?

CS ON THE FENCE

DEAR ON: A woman of any age should be allowed to do what she wants to do. However, even though the captain's "gourmet dinner" is 100 per cent kosher, and he has a good conduct medal to match yours, if your husband doesn't like the idea, don't pursue it. If you're lonely in your husbands absence, get off the fence and go with a group. There's safety in numbers.

DEAR ABBY: I've often considered writing to you about this, but then I would think: "It's too silly!" Now, I've had it.

We share a duplex house with two of the warmest, kindest people in the world. They are always so nice. That's the trouble, they are TOO nice!

When the mister cuts his grass he cuts ours, too. I know this is silly, but it bugs me. I LIKE to cut my own grass! I've told him not to bother, that I would do it in the evening, but then he says: "That's all right. I already have my lawn mower out."

Abby, I've gone out and started mowing my lawn, and he has the nerve to come over, shut my mower off and say: "Now, you go tend your baby, and let me do this." (They have no children and are quite a bit older than we are.) Abby, I truly like this sweet old neighbor, but he is carrying a good deed too far. How can I tell him?

KEEP OFF THE GRASS
DEAR KEEP: Tell him that you WANT to cut your own grass because you NEED the exercise. Now what warm, kind, sweet old neighbor would deprive you of your exercise?

DEAR ABBY: A reader signed "Angry" asks: "Do I have the right to complain?"

Her question caused me to recall what the late William Ernest Hocking wrote in his Types of Philosophy:

"Anyone can complain, but to see precisely what is wrong is a gift; accurate diagnosis comes from a unique power of vision and indicates the likelihood of equally unique capacity to remedy the fault."

Abby, you have both!

ARTHUR H. PRINCE
DEAR MR. PRINCE: I like the quote, but jeepers, what an extravagant compliment! Isn't there enough inflation in the world without adding another swelled head?

Indiana Fair Steer Brings $4,200 Bid

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The Indiana State Fair grand champion 4-H steer was sold Monday night for $4,200 to Ed Gossett, representing Ermco Electric Co.

The 1,250-pound champion steer, owned by Todd Cunningham of Kempton, went for $3.37 per pound.

Also featured in the annual 4-H spotlight livestock sale was a 107-pound crossbred lamb owned by Dennis McClammer of Greenfield. That went for $1,150, also to Ermco Electric, representing $10.75 per pound, a record.

Meritt L. Royalty of Franklin, Ohio, won the Superstock 5,000-pound tractor pull Monday. He pulled 57,000 pounds 166.11 feet.

Ron Barga of Ansonia, Ohio, won the Modified 9,000-pound class, pulling 61,000 pounds 251.6 feet.

Fayette County teams took first place in three of four divisions in the 4-H Bike-A-Thon in front of the Grandstand.

Fayette teams won the 25-lap senior girls division in 23:37.4, the 20-lap junior girls division in 18:31, and the 25-lap junior boys division in 21:37.3. A Brown County team won the 30-lap senior boys division in 26:22.8.

Butz Speaks On Pricing, Production

VAN WERT, Ohio (AP)—For the first time in 40 years, agricultural production and food pricing have returned to their rightful functions in the marketplace, U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz said today.

In remarks prepared for delivery at the Farm Focus-USA show near here, Butz said consumer demand, both at home and in export markets abroad, is setting goals and prices for agricultural production.

"No longer is it the policy of the United States to follow an artificially cheap food policy through the subterfuge of payments to farmers," Butz said.

He said the Agricultural Act of 1970 and the Agriculture and Consumer Protection Act of 1973 changed the entire approach to food politics.

Butz said under the current administration's leadership, the "world is beginning to understand food as a powerful weapon for peace."

"Food is critical to the stability of political governments, to the growth of national economies and to fulfilling the aspirations of people," Butz said.

Farmers and agricultural leaders from other nations have been seeking the key to more prosperous agriculture in their own lands from this country for years, Butz said.

But the ingredient they may have failed to import, Butz said, is "the managerial capacity firmly rooted in the philosophy of incentive through the marketplace."

Butz said these incentives provide an "impressive potential for growing more food worldwide."

"The key," the nation's agriculture chief said, "is giving the world's farmers the incentive to make the success happen, with the prospect for profit for themselves and their families."

Wheat Sale Criticized

What would have happened to American food prices had the Russian wheat sale of 1972 not been consummated can only be speculated. But as far as the Senate Permanent Investigations subcommittee is concerned, the sale of 700 million bushels of grain in one season to the Soviets was mismanaged from start to finish—to the detriment of the American consumer.

Not only did the sale wipe out existing surpluses but it also was heavily subsidized by the taxpayers, caused a demand push on prices which rippled into meat and related food industries, and caused a tie-up of freight cars which helped create shortages in industrial products as well as confusion in the transportation of other farm crops.

These are among the charges in the committee report, written after extensive public hearings. In conclusion, the report said "the large sales of grain to the Russians are an illustration of how, in pursuit of a worthwhile goal, government programs and officials can go astray."

While there may be some hyperbole in the committee report, there is also an element of truth. It was the size of the sale, which included 25 per cent of the American wheat out-put, which caused major disruptions.

There will be ample opportunities in the future to repeat the mistakes of 1972, if no lesson has been learned.

Ford's Father

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — "I love the President of the United States and pray for him, but I didn't like his father one little bit because he was what we'd call today a hustler," said the vigorous lady on the telephone from Riverton, Wyoming.

"Don't mention my name," she continued. "They know me around here. The President's father, Leslie King, was six or seven years older than I was. I'm 77. He was a rich man's son, old Charles Henry King's son. Old C. H. came out this way from Omaha a long time ago and got the Burlington Railroad into Wyoming. Fine man. But his son Leslie was a hustler, when he didn't have to be. Cost my late husband all his money."

Leslie King and his 21-year-old wife were divorced when Leslie Jr., now the President, was two. The mother gained custody and returned to her parents in Grand Rapids, Mich., where she married a local paint store owner and civic leader, Gerald Rudolph Ford, who adopted the baby and gave him his own name. The future President met his father face-to-face at age 17, while a senior at a Grand Rapids High School and working for $2 a week as a part-time cook and dishwasher in a hamburger joint across the street from the school.

Carolyn B. Tyler, editor of the Riverton (Wyo.) Ranger, told us in a phone interview, "The Kings are a legend around here. Leslie, Senior, the President's father, left here and died in Tuscon in 1941. He had remarried and had other children, including a second Leslie King — the President's half-brother."

"That Leslie King lives in Tennessee (Ed. note: He's a tire store owner in Cookeville, Tenn., and has been described as a "spittin' image" of the President). Their father apparently lost a lot of money for the local businessmen who trusted him because he was the son of one of the true Wyoming pioneers, old C. H., who made a lot of money with his various enterprises, including his bank in Casper. Some older people still call the President's father a horse thief. But he wasn't a good one, from all accounts. Just fair."

Terence Cardinal Cooke celebrated a special mass for the new President at St. Patrick's Cathedral on Ford's first day in office. The President was not in attendance but would have liked the prayer the Cardinal lifted in his behalf.

"We pray You, O God of wisdom and justice, to assist with Your holy spirit of counsel and fortitude the President of the United States. May his Administration be conducted in righteousness, and may he encourage due respect for life, virtue and religion, a faithful execution of the laws in justice and mercy, and the restraint of vice and immorality. Let the light of Your wisdom guide the courts and direct the deliberations of Congress and shine forth in all laws framed for our rule and government. May they strive for the preservation of peace, the promotion of national happiness, the increase of industry and knowledge, and the blessing of equal liberty.

"We recommend to Your mercy all our fellow citizens, that they may be blessed in the knowledge, and strengthened in the observance of Your most holy law; that they may be preserved in a spirit of unity, and in that peace which the world cannot give; and after enjoying the blessings of this life, that they be admitted to those which are eternal. Amen."

If it sounds familiar, you're getting along in years. It's a paraphrase of a prayer offered by John Carroll, first archbishop of Baltimore, in behalf of President Washington.

There's an unprecedented literary rhubarb raging in New York's book publishing marts. Bill Safire, the New York Times columnist and former speechwriter for Richard Nixon, is suing William Morrow & Co., and vice versa. Seems that about the time Safire left the White House the President's popularity was still so high that the publisher offered Nixon's friend a $250,000 advance against royalties, of which $83,000 has been paid.

Nixon's skid and resignation in disgrace caused a change of heart at Morrow, which at one time had anticipated a $1,500,000 sale of the hard-cover and paperback editions. It wants no part of Bill's 250,000 word manuscript, which is a friendly account of Nixon tentatively titled "A Hurry to be Great." Morrow's stand is that it is badly written, which is something like accusing Bill Buckley of bad grammar.

Anyway, as John Mitchell might say, it's another Watergate horror, a footnote to the history of the political crime of our age.

Business World

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's effort to reduce poverty is another victim of the slower economic growth and high prices that have prevailed so far in the 1970s.

Completing a study on disadvantaged Americans, The Conference Board stated that while the number of poor has fallen to 23 million from 40 million in 1960, recent progress has slowed perceptibly.

"While the record is not unimpressive," said Fabian Linden, director of consumer economics for the nonprofit research organization, "the fact is that most of the gain was accomplished in the early and mid-sixties."

At least since 1968, he said, the number of poor has been decreasing more slowly, partly because the poor who remain comprise the hard core of the problem.

What makes the situation even more difficult to resolve today is the changing nature of poverty. While the percentage of elderly at the poverty level has declined, a greater proportion of children are included in the category.

In many instances, said Linden, these children are members of families headed by women who, if they are to fulfill their motherly duties, do not get jobs.

"In the early 60's the heads of some two-thirds of all poverty families did some work for at least some portion of the year," he said. "Now that ratio is only about one-half."

Who are the poor? Using government estimates, the Conference

Board listed those persons living alone with incomes of less than $2,300 a year, as it did six-member families with incomes of $6,000.

The precise definitions are the result of an elaborate matrix which classifies families according to size, sex of household head, and many other variables. A "poverty threshold income level" is then established.

These are some of the findings: —Poverty is most widespread among the aged — despite a decrease — and among blacks, people with modest schooling, and households headed by women.

Nearly one-third of the country's black population is poor, with the figure jumping to 40 per cent for blacks over 65, and to 44 per cent for black women over 65.

—The proportion of elderly poor people has declined dramatically in recent years. The percentage of poor among people over 65 dropped from 29 per cent in 1966 to about 16 per cent last year.

Social Security is given considerable credit for this accomplishment. Added Linden: "The pending program, which will automatically adjust Social Security payments to rising living costs, should make for further gains in this area."

—Less progress has been made in alleviating poverty among children, who comprise more than 40 per cent of all the nation's poor. A large proportion of these youngsters are in homes headed by women.

An attempted burglary at the Ashville Lumber Co. was foiled almost before it started, according to Sheriff Charles Radcliff. Alertness on the part of Ashville residents and lawmen nipped the midnight burglary and led to the apprehension of at least one of the men involved. A boy and girl heard glass breaking and called an auxiliary deputy, who called sheriff's authorities and the Ashville marshal. They nabbed the man walking from the lumber yard.

A new 16 millimeter moving picture film library was started to strengthen and supplement the teaching of science and mathematics at Circleville High School. Seventy-three full length films were purchased under a new government aid program that will belong to the city schools.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

A delightful book, American Folk Medicine, written by Clarence Meyer, has just been published by Thomas Y. Crowell Co.

In it Mr. Meyer points out how folk medicine survives in many parts of the United States, even in the light of highly sophisticated medical progress.

He illustrates that "simple kitchen products, garden vegetables and well-known botanicals such as caraway and fennel seed, chamomile flowers, sage, rosemary, dandelions and spices" have a place among the home remedies still found in active use.

It is astonishing how many of these family-handed-down remedies have, after many decades, been shown to have some real scientific validity.

In 1862, Dr. J. C. Gunn wrote, "The best thing I have ever known to scatter the swelling and subdue the inflammation of inflamed breasts is the application of a mink skin—a fresh one is best, but a dry one will do by being softened in warm water."

The basis for this is the fact that the mink skin retains moisture and warmth, and serves as a long-acting compress.

For a common cold it is suggested, "Before retiring drink a cup of hot water, sweetened with brown sugar and rum." Today we would call that a hot toddy, and not bad for a cold.

Some of the remedies sound more amusing than meaningful. "Slice a few onions and boil them in a pint of new milk. Stir in a sprinkle of oatmeal and very little salt. Boil until the onions are tender. Then sup rapidly and go to bed." It was thought that onions would drive away a cold.

To control fever: "Four ounces of galangal root in a quart of gin, steeped in a warm place; take often."

For chest colds: "A flannel rag, wrung out in boiling water and sprinkled with turpentine, laid on the chest, gives the greatest relief." Or, "Rub chest and throat with skunk's oil. It penetrates and relieves congestion."

For bites: "Centipede or scorpion bites, apply ammonia. Chigger bites, use butter thickened with salt. Ant bites, eau de cologne. For bee or wasp stings, apply honey."

For asthma: "The oil of goose is a good remedy but the feathers are very hurtful to those who lie upon them."

For corns: "Thrusting the toe into a lemon, to be kept on overnight, will make the removal of a corn easy."

Haven't Americans been truly ingenious in the creation of their folk remedies?

Rain Little Help In Corn Production

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department says rains so far this month have not boosted prospects for larger corn production from an estimate made as of Aug. 1.

"Rainfall during the first half of August over much of the Plains and Corn Belt states apparently did not promote significant gains in corn production, although soybeans could benefit from the moisture," the department said Monday in a special report.

Juvenile Shift Eyed

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—U. S. District Judge William K. Thomas has continued until Sept. 23 a hearing on a suit to transfer juvenile offenders at the Ohio Reformatory for Mansfield to the Indian River School for Juveniles near Massillon.

Robert C. White, superintendent of the reformatory and its youth program, testified Monday that 35 juvenile offenders at the reformatory were too dangerous to transfer to the Indian River facility.

The transfer had been agreed to two years ago in a suit filed in U. S. District Court by the Legal Aid Society to force the state to separate and remove juvenile delinquents from adults at the reformatory.

White said the Indian River school is not a maximum security prison and cannot handle the more disruptive delinquents remaining at Mansfield.

In December 1972 state prison officials agreed to transfer all 170 juveniles at Mansfield to Indian River.

Perk Opposes Choice Of Rocky

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland Mayor Ralph Perk, candidate for the U.S. Senate, said he is opposed to the nomination of Nelson Rockefeller for vice president because of Rockefeller's "pro-abortion stand."

Perk, campaigning here Monday, said he sent a telegram to President Gerald Ford opposing Rockefeller's possible nomination.

"I respectfully urge you not to appoint former Gov. Nelson Rockefeller as vice president because of his pro-abortion record in New York State, which was even prior to the regrettable U.S. Supreme Court ruling," Perk's telegram said.

"I believe the most basic civil right is the right of life, itself, and am on record in support of a pro-life amendment to the U.S. Constitution."

Officials described the analysis as a "quick mid-month review" based on reports from field offices of the department's Statistical Reporting Service. The analysis did not include surveys of farmers or actual examinations of crops in fields.

The department said rainfall and temperatures this month have been favorable enough to support the USDA estimate of corn production as of Aug. 1 indications.

On Aug. 12, the department estimated that 1974 corn production — based on surveys the first of the month — would total 4.97 billion bushels. That would be down 12 per cent from the record 1973 harvest of more than 5.64 billion bushels and far below a projected indication of 6.7 billion bushels earlier this year.

Officials noted that both corn and soybeans were planted late last spring and that crop development gains as the result of recent rain might be cut short by killing frosts in the fall.

"Soybeans may benefit from the August rains, but any increased output from new growth also will depend upon the killing frosts as well as normal precipitation the rest of the growing season," the report said.

The department's next official estimate of crop production is scheduled to be announced Sept. 11, based upon conditions as of the first of the month.

'Vernal Riffe Day' At Portsmouth

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP) — "Vernal Riffe Jr. Day" will be celebrated here Saturday in honor of State Rep. Vernal R. Riffe Jr., D-89 New Boston.

Riffe, 49, speaker pro tem of the Ohio House, grew up and still resides in adjoining New Boston, where his father was mayor for a number of years.

Riffe has been in the House since 1959.

Prison Term Meted On Assault Charge

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Larry Baker, 23, of Cincinnati, was sentenced Monday to 5-15 years imprisonment on an assault charge involving a policeman. Baker was accused of striking Patrolman Donald Campbell, April 18, on the head with a heavy log.

The officer was responding to a sick call in a park. Police said Baker kicked the officer before striking him. A fight broke out during the officer's investigation, police said.

Controlling Board OKs Funds For Xenia

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The State Controlling Board released more than $1 million in assistance to tornado-stricken Xenia Monday and more is on the way.

Col. Frank Ruvio of the adjutant general's office said he believed the federal government would kick in with 75 per cent matching funds within two weeks after applications are solicited Sept. 3.

"That'll beat any other federal program we ever got into," said Rep. Myrl Shoemaker, D-88 Bourneville, a board member.

Among the Xenia-oriented releases: —$500,000 as the state's initial contribution to the individual and family grant program, to be matched by $1.5 million in federal money.

—$110,000 to expand the operations of the State Disaster Service Agency, which will assist storm victims who suffered serious loss.

—$300,559 for supplemental financial aid to Xenia city schools, replacing what the schools lost by the reduction in tax valuation as a result of the April 3, tornado.

—$402,325, transferred from other funds, to rebuild the Ohio National Guard Armory at Xenia, the money to be reimbursed by the federal government.

Gov. John Gilligan said the state contribution under the individual and family grant program will eventually reach $2.5 million, supplemented with $7.5 million in federal funds.

Ruvio estimated an estimated 2,000 individuals and families in Green County will be eligible for the money. The limit is $5,000 per family or individual.

The money will go to those who suffered serious loss, such as a home not covered by insurance or only partially covered.

The board released $82,050 for a study of the physical conditions of buildings on four university campuses, including $9,050 for Central State University, which suffered damage from the same storm that hit Xenia.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown's request for $145,168 to reimburse counties for the expense of printing ballots and advertising three constitutional amendments for the May 7 ballot was jerked from the agenda by the Office of Budget and Management.

Deputy Director Robert Barrow said the request was improperly prepared because it didn't list the source of the money.

"We thought it was to come out of their operating budget," he said. "They intended to come out of someplace else. We've got to figure out where that someplace else is."

Other action approved by the board: —Transfer of unallotted funds ($60,972) from fiscal year 1974 to fiscal year 1975, requested by the adjutant general's office for maintenance, repairs and utilities for the Army and Air National Guard.

—Release of the $63.4 million school foundation subsidy for August, a routine monthly release despite the amount involved.

—Expenditure of $787,000 by the Department of Highway Safety to New York Penal Industries for 2.1 million pairs of 1975 Ohio auto license tags. (Ohioans now having tags will use stickers in 1975. The new plates will be for new cars and tag replacements).

—Release of $1.8 million from the emergency compensation adjustment fund to finance increased payroll costs as provided in the August 1973 pay raise bill.

—Permit the Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation to draw in advance $13 million on revenue bonds to be sold early in 1975, the money to be repaid upon the bond sale.

—$330,000 for a coal and ash handling system at Gallipolis State Institute.

—$109,777 for the construction of three salt storage buildings in Ottawa, Putnam and Wood counties.

Auctioneer Day Set At Ohio State Fair

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — More than 2,500 auctioneers and apprentices are expected to be admitted free to the Ohio State Fair on Aug. 23 as part of Ohio Auctioneer Day.

Many will be competing for a $300 first prize in the state fair auctioneer contest designed to select the best auctioneer for ability, speed and style, said Fair Manager Victor Lucas.

Cash awards will total $800, he said, and trophies will be awarded to the top 10 winners.

Across the midway, youngsters from across the United States will be competing in three days of rounds in the National Amateur Boxing Tournament Aug. 22-24.

Indian Craft Center Found

BAINBRIDGE, Ohio (AP) — Archeology students from Ohio State University are uncovering the remains of an apparent ancient Indian craft center that they say is different from three structures excavated here earlier.

Raymond Baby, curator of archeology for the Ohio Historical Society and director of the student excavations, said that unlike the first three structures found at Seip Mound here, the stones composing this center showed no evidence of having been heated.

The first three excavations produced numerous bits of mica and small flint tools which showed evidence of having been heated, Baby said.

He said Hopewell Indians apparently used the structures about 2,000 years ago to make ornaments from mica.

The archeologists said they believe their latest discovery may once have been a drainage pit for some process in which water was used.

The structure contains a row of five limestone-filled pits about two feet in diameter up to three feet deep.

One possibility, Baby said, is that this house was used in washing vegetable fiber. Microscopic tests will be made of material from the pits.

The archeologist said an excavation crew will dig out a large pit in the center of the house in hopes of learning more about the purpose of the structure.

At least seven structures are known to have existed close together in front of the ancient mound at this state memorial. Ditches dug last fall turned up locations of three not yet excavated.

Forty champions, ages 10 to 25, will be crowned at the end of the tournament, billed as the world's largest amateur boxing contest.

High speed chases and bonejarring crashes will enliven the grandstand Aug. 30 during two performances by the Dan Fleenor Auto Thrill Show.

The two-hour shows will include the motorcycle "Leap of Death" over a row of parked cars, the "Slide for Life" where a daredevil drops from the rear of a speeding car, and a ramp-to-ramp leap 60 feet through space in a new car.

More than $3,500 will be offered in cash prizes in the state fair tractor pull set for Aug. 30-31.

Two tracks will be operated simultaneously this year to speed the competition, Lucas said.

Winners in each class will win $500, he said.

The Ohio Folk Festival will feature continuous craft and food demonstrations on the lawn of the Arts and Crafts Building.

"One of the most interesting demonstrations should be the auto body repair exhibit. Such work is now considered a 20th century art form and has developed into a real handcraft," Lucas said.

Bringing the fair to a deathdefying conclusion Labor Day is scheduled to be motorcycle stuntman "Super Joe" Einhorn. Einhorn originally was scheduled to attempt a 16-car leap, but told fair officials early this week he had been injured while performing and only would be attempting a 10-car leap in Ohio.

Einhorn reportedly will make the leap while wearing a leg cast and an arm sling.

Seek Venue Change For Slaying Trial

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — One of two men accused in the July 17 fatal shooting of Patrolman David Cole Monday sought a change of venue in Hamilton County Common Pleas Court.

Ricardo Woods, 24, of Cincinnati, citing newspaper clippings, said he could not get an unprejudiced trial in the city.

The other man charged with Woods is Roland Reaves, 23. Both are charged with aggravated murder of a policeman and could face the death sentence.

Kirk-Pritchard Rites Exchanged In Ashville Village UM Church

MR. AND MRS. JAMES F. PRITCHARD

Village United Methodist Church in Ashville was the setting for the marriage of Miss Teresa Gail Kirk and Mr. James F. Pritchard, 2:30 p.m., July 6th.

The Rev. John Glick performed the double ring ceremony for the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Ervin N. Kirk of Route 1, Ashville, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Pritchard, 11525 Long St. Ashville.

Seven branched candelabra flanked the altar which was decorated with a candle arrangement of white snapdragons, yellow roses, white and yellow daisy pompons and featuring one large candle, which the bride and groom lit at the conclusion of the ceremony signifying the union. White satin bows marked the family pews.

A program of wedding music was provided by Mrs. Benis Lutz, church organist, and the soloist, Miss Darlene Neff, sang "The Wedding Song," "The Lords Prayer" and "We've Only Just Begun."

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by both her parents. For her wedding she selected a bridal gown in the mood of "Turn Of The Century" fashioned of white silk faced organza with high neckline and pin tucked bodice and full bishop sleeves accented with Nottingham lace, which also edged the A-line skirt. Appliques of daisies and seed pearls accented the front of the bodice and a narrow band of daisies encircled the natural waistline. The blusher veil and chapel length mantilla, held in place by a lace cap were edged with matching lace. She carried a crescent shaped bouquet of yellow roses, white and yellow pompons and springeri with white satin streamers. Her only jewelry was a heart shaped pendant, a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Susan Derringer, maid of honor, wore a floor length gown of green dotted swiss flocked with a heart shaped designs. The bodice featured a low round neckline with ruffles and long set-in sleeves gathered to a wide buttoned cuff. The skirt gathered to the midriff above the natural waistline and featured a wide skirt ruffle. Her white picture hat with green ribbon band and streamers completed her ensemble. She carried a single yellow rose with babies breath and white satin streamers.

Bridesmaids were Miss Connie Sowers, Mrs. Philip Salyers and Mrs. Steve Thompson. They wore gowns fashioned identically to that of the honor attendant of yellow dotted swiss flocked with a heart shaped design. Their white picture hats had yellow ribbon bands and streamers and they

Westfall Board Hikes Meal Price; Adopts Dress Code

First day of school for Westfall district students, except those attending kindergarten, will be Tuesday, Sept. 3, with a full day of classes scheduled.

The opening day, set by the district's Board of Education in a regular meeting Monday night, will bring some changes to the district.

Lunch prices have been hiked and a revised dress code was adopted.

Class starting times were kept in line with last year. High School students will meet at 7 a.m.; elementary students at 8:20 a.m.; and junior high students at 10:50 a.m.

Kindergarten classes begin Wednesday, Sept. 4, with two sessions planned at Darby and Jackson schools.

Bus routes will remain about the same as last year.

Lunch, which will be served the first day of school, will cost students a nickel more and adults an additional dime when compared with prices last year.

Students in grades 1 through 6 will be charged 40 cents for a hot lunch; students in grades 7 through 12 will be charged 45 cents; and adults will be charged 60 cents.

The prices will be observed during the 1974-75 school year, according to the board.

The dress code, as presented to the Board of Education by members of the high school student council and high school principal, Robert Debo, does not differ radically from the one followed last year.

Hair of male students must be clean and well-groomed, and cannot touch their shoulders. Boys should be clean-shaven.

Shirts must be buttoned to within two buttons of the neck and must be tucked in the pants if so designed. T-shirts are permissible attire.

Army or service jackets may not be worn. Heel plates on shoes are not permitted. Socks must be worn at all times.

Girls may wear pants skirts, culottes, sweat shirts, slacks, or jeans. Stockings or hose should be worn.

Shorts, swim wear, hot pants, bra dresses, halter tops, shrinks, Army or service jackets are not permitted. Heel plates cannot be worn.

Girls' hair should be clean and free of rollers, clips, or curlers.

An in-service training program sponsored by the Central Ohio Instructional Resource Center will be held at the Westfall High School building, according to the Board of Education.

The program, conducted by personnel from Ohio State University, is primarily for special education instructors from Madison and Pickaway Counties.

Registration for the program will be held Sept. 9 from 4 to 6:30 p.m. Classes will be held on Mondays from Oct. 6 through Dec. 9.

The resignation of Mrs. Gladys Warnock, a bus driver, was accepted by the board.

Mrs. Warnock, Mrs. Helen Whitten, and Mrs. Bernice Hulse were granted severance pay, which is allowed those personnel taking formal retirement. It is based on accumulated sick leave days and years of service with the school district.

Seven teachers were employed for the 1974-75 school year.

They are Emily Nelson, Cheryl Chapman, and Phyllis Born, who will be employed in elementary positions; Maureen Owens, a seventh and eighth grade English instructor; Mary Miller, vocational home economics; Jennifer Talbott, high school English; and Molly Whitlatch, French and Spanish.

Mrs. Edna Mosley, Mrs. Shelby Tucker, and James Parrett were employed by the board as bus drivers.

Substitute drivers are Patricia Parrett, Roger Green, Ann Reid, James Kibby, Alan Gabriel, Tom Greer, and Lowell Anderson.

Substitute cooks employed are Emma Sias, Anna Adams, Loretta Keller, and Betty Howell.

Substitute custodians are Oscar Atwood and Norval Shepherd and Sally Johnson was employed as a substitute secretary.

Permission was granted Sherry Taylor, a tuition student, to attend Darby kindergarten if class size permits.

School bus insurance contract for one year was awarded to Personal Service Insurance Co. Lewis Cook and Sons are the local agents.

Board members reminded students that they must register at the school they will be attending prior to the start of school.

The meeting was continued until 8 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 21

Juveniles Charged In Theft

Charges of aggravated burglary, grand and petit theft were filed against two Lockbourne juveniles, by Pickaway County Sheriff's Authorities, when they took money and watches from a trailer in the Plainview Trailer Court, Route 1, Lockbourne.

The two boys were found by Mrs. Michael Flaherty in her trailer around 4:20 p.m. Monday. Returning home Mrs. Flaherty found a nine-year-old boy standing inside her door.

When she questioned him as to what he was doing, he stated he was going to get his brother. Checking the other rooms, she found an eight-year-old boy in the bedroom.

Dale Flaherty, Mrs. Flaherty's brother-in-law, while taking the boys to the trailer court office, noticed the nine-year-old boy had some items which belonged to Mrs. Flaherty.

The boys admitted to Deputy James Dixon that they entered the trailer taking the money and watches.

The items were valued at $202.11.

The two minors also admitted to Deputy Dixon that they took a watch from an unlocked car belonging to Richard Humble, Lockbourne Lodge, noon, the same day.

The watch was valued at $39.

Authorities released the two in the custody of their mother pending court action. All property was recovered.

Dixon also investigated a break-in at a home under construction.

Laraine Muncy, secretary-treasurer of Relm Incorporated, Ashville, reported thieves took an estimated $150 worth of aluminum walk board from the house.

Deputy Bill Dountz investigated a break-in at the Franklin McVicker residence, Route 1, Williamsport, occurring 5 p.m. Monday.

Forcing a screen on a rear porch and a window open to gain entry, the thieves took an estimated $156 worth of jewelry.

Thieves took $226 worth of barb wire from the Quality Farm and Fleet, Route 1, during a break-in early Monday.

The thieves apparently used bolt cutters to cut a fence enclosing the area where the wire was stored.

Deputy Dountz investigated the theft.

Deputy Dan Dewey investigated a burglary at the Dwayne C. Harvell residence, Route 1, Lockbourne, occurring between 8:45 p.m. and 11:30 p.m. Monday.

According to Dewey's report, the thieves entered the house trailer taking money, prescriptions, medication and clothing, valued at $175.

Charges Studied In State Scandal

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Mahoning County Prosecutor Vincent Gilmartin in Youngstown confirmed Monday that criminal cases involving diversion of upwards of $50,000 in state funds are being readied for a September grand jury.

The cases are connected with a scandal in the Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation disclosed this week by the Dayton Journal Herald in a series of copyrighted articles.

Gilmartin said the cases involve "three or four" bureau employees who allegedly falsified bureau records to inflate the amount of money the state paid out.

The Journal Herald said in its editions today that State Auditor Joseph Ferguson's office violated Ohio law by failing to report a confession by a former bureau employee who admitted falsifying records to illegally obtain state funds.

A spokesman for the auditor's office denied the allegation.

"We found the article to be completely unfounded and almost libelous," said Steve Jay, information director.

"We think this was politically motivated," Jay said, adding the office believes political adversaries of the Gilligan administration "set the newspaper up as a pawn."

The Journal Herald said Raymond A. Bush, former counselor with the bureau in Youngstown, signed an affidavit "swearing he told auditor's examiners in August, 1972, that he falsely inflated payment vouchers to illegally obtain state funds on the orders of his supervisors in the bureau."

The story, written by Keigh McKight and Andrew Alexander, said former Canton area BVR supervisor Samuel D. Yocco, also admitted to auditor's examiners that "he instructed Ronn Perrin, the Youngstown district supervisor to inflate the vouchers for the costs of service provided students in the program."

The state examiner's report was not approved until Sept. 6, 1973, more than a year after the falsifications were discovered, the newspaper said. "And the report wasn't made public for nearly four more months."

"The 18-page report, which contained only four paragraphs of Yocco's admission, was never sent to the Mahoning County prosecutor in Youngstown," the newspaper continued.

The Journal Herald reported that according to Ohio law, a copy of the report should have been filed with the Mahoning County prosecutor so that he could institute criminal proceedings against officers or employees.

Democrats Split Over Party Rules

WASHINGTON (AP) — After two years of trying to settle their reform controversy, Democrats are back to the same kind of hair-pulling strife which tore the party apart in 1972.

Probably the last chance to salvage the party's reconciliation effort in time for the 1976 presidential year will come this December at the first mid-term Party Conference, a miniaturized version of the national convention.

It may be too late to restore unity for this year's elections in the wake of a walkout by blacks, women and white liberals from the final meeting of the Democratic Charter Commission on Sunday. They charged that party "regulars" were bent on an item-by-item overhaul of reform efforts.

The disenchanted reform wing left threatening to retaliate in the fall by withholding support from some Democratic candidates.

Although the party regulars outvoted the more avid reformers by three to one at the commission's closing session in Kansas City, the balance will be much closer at the conference in December.

Ironically, the blowup which derailed party chairman Robert S. Strauss's unity campaign was brought on by efforts to push through modifications he felt would avert just such a split.

The Strauss-backed changes were aimed at giving the reformers some of what they wanted but not enough to alienate the regulars who are still smarting over the McGovern Commission rules that kept many of them from the 1972 convention in Miami Beach.

But once the rollback got started and the regular-labor-conservative bloc saw how much muscle it had, Strauss's lieutenants lost control and were unable to stop it.

The break-up of Strauss's rapprochement began over an article designed to open up the party and which contained the ghost of the 1972 quotas.

The black members protested when the regulars began chipping away at this article. The Kansas City commission voted to report four alternatives to the mid-term conference which must now make the painful choice.

Lottery Round Tickets Sales End Today

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— Ticket sales for the Ohio lottery's first drawing Thursday end today, with the next round beginning immediately.

Agents had a deadline of 11 a.m. today for turning in funds from tickets sold in the first round and they could pick up tickets for the second drawing at the same time.

Eleven million tickets have been printed for the second round. There were 14 million tickets available for the first round, which spanned more than the one week each subsequent round will last.

A spokesman for the Ohio Lottery Commission said that 20 winners will get their money immediately upon presentation of the winning tickets after Thursday's 10 a.m. drawing but that those winning $500, $1,000 and the biggest money in the "Buckeye 300" drawings later will be paid by check through the mail.

He said those who can't be present for the Buckeye drawings can designate a substitute or can take advantage of the commission's offer to have a state employee as a stand-in.

The first "Buckeye 300" drawing will be at 10 a.m. Aug. 29 on the steps of the Capitol building in Columbus. Prizes will range from $15,000 to $300,000 with each of the 10 eligible being assured of at least $15,000, the spokesman said.

He added that those eligible will get the $15,000 on the spot by check but that "$15,000 is the biggest check we make out.

"If he wins $300,000, he gets a check for 15 grand every year for 20 years," the spokesman said.

available for posh vacation trips.

"Victoria" is her name and since she was built at a cost of $100,000 in 1927 the grand old lady of the Pullman Co. has brought up the rear of hundreds of coast-to-coast trains, carrying opera stars, political dignitaries and presidents.

Heads of state visiting the United States were given the car for their travels. Franklin D. Roosevelt used the car in 1935 for his second presidential campaign.

The opulent, 83-foot car was purchased by the Burlington Railroad in 1944 and renamed the "Blackhawk."

In 1966, the car changed hands again. It was purchased by two San Diego distributing company executives, S. Steve Sourpas and John Cuchna. They renamed the car the "Victoria."

Now they are turning over the plush pullman to the Pacific Southwest Railway Museum Association of San Diego, which plans to prepare it for future travels.

"This is a real rarity," said Jack Stodelle, director of the museum. "It has a diesel stove, two rear staterooms, a solarium lounge that seats 12 and it can sleep eight. We'll have it on display to the public for a while, but when we get the money we'd like to get her ready to get back in service."

He said the museum needs $8,000 to put new couplings on the car to conform to modern equipment and then "she'll be ready for charter."

How much will it cost to rent the car?

"In the neighborhood of about $200 a day plus rail costs, which run about a dollar a mile," he said. "Of course, that's not bad if you're taking 20 people."

Parma Heights Girl Killed In Accident

RAPID CITY, S.D. (AP) — Diane DeGardyn, 16, of Parma Heights, Ohio, was killed Monday when the car in which she was riding left U.S. 16 south of here, overturned and caught fire, authorities reported.

Donna Chidsey, also of Parma Heights, driver of the car, was brought to a Rapid City hospital, where she was listed in serious condition.

Red Sox Turn Back Chisox

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

Chicago Manager Chuck Tanner gave the Boston Red Sox his best 1-2 punch right off the bat Monday night but Bill Lee and Diego Segui saw to it that not much punch at all came off the White Sox' bats.

Remembering back to May 31, when he had sluggers Dick Allen and Bill Melton batting in the 1-2 spots and they delivered consecutive third-inning homers off Lee for all the runs in a 3-2 Chicago triumph, Tanner tried it again.

This time, they managed only a single apiece and Allen ended Chicago's only real threat with a double-play grounder in the eighth inning as the Red Sox rolled to a 6-1 victory and stretched their lead in the American League's East Division to five games over idle Cleveland.

Elsewhere, the Milwaukee Brewers nipped the Oakland A's 1-0, the Minnesota Twins whipped the New York Yankees 6-2 and the California Angels blanked the Detroit Tigers 1-0.

Baltimore, Kansas City and Texas also were idle.

Lee and Segui combined on a five-hitter. Lee blanked the White Sox on three hits until the eighth when his arm stiffened and he needed help from Segui after Chicago scored its only run on a walk and singles by Pete Varney and Bucky Dent.

Brewers 1, A's 0

George Scott hit a second-inning homer and Billy Champion and Tom Murphy made it stand up with a six-hitter. Scott's 10th homer of the season, a drive that curled around the rightfield foul pole, was one of only four Milwaukee hits off Vida Blue.

Murphy replaced Champion when Bert Campaneris led off the eighth inning with a single and recorded his 15th save.

Twins 6, Yankees 2

Bob Darwin slammed a three-run homer off Sam McDowell in the first inning and Joe Decker scattered six hits, including Graig Nettles' first home run since July 9.

Steve Brye opened the game with a double but was thrown out at third on Rod Carew's bunt. Larry Hise followed with a single and Harmon Killebrew grounded out before Darwin powered his 20th home run of the season into the stands.

Decker finished with a flourish, retiring the last 11 New York batters after a one-out walk in the sixth.

Angels 1, Tigers 0

Frank Tanana hurled a sixhitter for his second straight shutout and the Angels edged the Tigers on Winston Llenas' bases-loaded sacrifice fly in the ninth inning.

Detroit rookie Fred Holdsworth matched scoreless innings with Tanana until the California ninth.

Hamstrings Plague Indians

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The American League pennant hopes of the Cleveland Indians may be strangled by a string.

A hamstring, that is.

Their starting lineup has changed radically in the last few weeks because of the pulled hamstring muscles that have injured four of their key players.

Those who have pulled the muscle are first-baseman-catcher, John Ellis, second baseman Jack Brohamer, centerfielder George Hendrick, and an important reservist Tom McCraw.

"The team physicians seem to think it is a fatigue factor," says Manager Ken Aspromonte. "It can't be that the players are not in shape. Any player who plays everyday has to be in shape."

"It's probably an unusual turn of the leg on an unusual play," he continued. "Brohamer just turned his leg the wrong way. Ellis has heavy legs and he's been putting a lot of strain on them behind the plate and at first base.

"It was a quick start from the plate that did it to Hendricks. And McCraw never ran as fast for a fly ball as he did the day he pulled his muscle."

Dragster Sets Marks For Speed

WENDOVER, Utah (AP)—A rocket dragster powered by hydrogen peroxide broke four world records Monday on the Bonneville Salt Flats.

The Pollution Packer, fueled by the pollution-free fuel, hit an average speed of 181.341 miles in 4.963 seconds from a standing start over a quarter-mile course.

Vern Anderson, 35, of Minneapolis, broke both the time and speed records in the standing quarter-mile and the standing half-kilometer. The run also gave him the corresponding national records.

It was the first time a rocketpowered car had attempted to break records on the salt flats. The vehicle is expected to go after the standing mile and kilometer records today.

The chemical reaction that powers the rocket car produces only water and oxygen. The Pollution Packer is powered by a 90 per cent solution of the substance.

The run went smoothly except for a near-rollover at the end of the run, when Anderson's car swerved nearly out of control coming down from speeds of between 390 and 430 miles per hour.

The Southern California Timing Association clocked the runs, in which Anderson also set national records. In the half-kilometer, the vehicle reached an average of 203.536 m.p.h. in 5.4925 seconds.

This means the car was going in excess of 400 miles at the end of the course and would have, from a dead stop, passed a car going by at 200 miles per hour.

Little League World Series Opening Set

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—Eight teams from around the world converged on central Pennsylvania this week for the 28th annual Little League World Series.

It is a baseball tournament that prides itself on tradition.

However, there is one tradition of recent vintage, that seven of the eight participants hope to end: the domination of the week-long competition by teams from the Far East, particularly Taiwan.

The Far East representative in the series has been victorious in seven of the past eight years. Teams representing leagues on the island of Taiwan have won the Far East regionals and gone on to win at Williamsport for three years running.

Last year the team from Taiwan won the title with three consecutive no-hitters at Williamsport.

This year, New Haven, Conn., meets Kao Hsiung, Taiwan, in the opening round playoffs Tuesday of the Little League World Series.

Athens, Greece, goes against Central United States Champion Talmadge, Ohio, in the second game.

In Wednesday's preliminary action, Canadian champion Victoria, B.C., meets Red Bluff, Calif., and Maracaibo, Venezuela faces Jackson, Tenn.

The championship will be played Saturday at 2 p.m., Little League, Inc., announced on Sunday.

Ramirez Wins Tennis Tournament

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The bids of Mexican Raul Ramirez and Australian Colin Dibley for U.S. tennis tournament titles are over—Ramirez winning a $9,000 first-place check and Dibley being upset on the opening day of a tourney he was trying to win for the second straight year.

Ramirez, 21, won the men's singles crown at the $50,000 Buckeye Tennis Championships at Columbus, Ohio, Monday night by beating Roscoe Tanner, 3-6, 7-6, 6-4. The two are former collegiate rivals, Ramirez having played for Southern California and Tanner for Stanford.

Meanwhile Dibley, seeking to defend his singles title at the $50,000 Eastern Lawn Tennis Open at South Orange, N.J., was beaten, 6-3, 6-3 Monday afternoon by Brian Gottfried, a U.S. pro who said he has "been playing pretty well lately."

Third-seeded Tom Gorman withdrew from the Eastern because of a back injury. The tournament's two top seeds, Wimbledon champion Jimmy Connors and Russian Alex Metreveli, were scheduled to begin play today.

Connor's fiancée, Chris Evert, also a Wimbledon champion, was set to open play today against Kristy Pigeon in the $30,000 Women's Grass Court Championships at Newport, R.I. Second-seeded Olga Morozova of the Soviet Union also was to begin play today, against Australian Cynthia Doerner.

Clean energy for tomorrow ...gas from coal.

There is enough coal in the ground to last for centuries. But, with our striving for a cleaner environment, much of it can't be used.

Columbia Gas is working on processes that will convert this coal into clean-burning gas. In cooperation with the government, and independently, Columbia is moving ahead in coal gasification research. Experimental plants are in operation, and making progress.

The first commercial coal gasification plant is still far down the road, and it will be expensive. But, with the development of coal gasification, a whole new industry will be born, with jobs for thousands of people. And this new source for gas will help the nation reduce its growing dependence on foreign supplies of energy.

Coal gasification will mean more energy for tomorrow. And even with higher costs, gas will still be the most economical fuel for your home.

COLUMBIA GAS is doing something about the energy crisis.

Dolphins Defeat Minnesota Vikings

MIAMI (AP) — The uniforms were the same and so was the result, but the Super Bowl it wasn't as the Miami Dolphins defeated the Minnesota Vikings 21-9 in a National Football League exhibition game.

Both coaches admitted their clubs weren't playing Super Bowl-quality ball in Monday night's game. "They didn't do all the things tonight they did in the Super Bowl," said Miami Coach Don Shula, whose team won last January's title confrontation 24-7. "Our team didn't, either."

Minnesota boss Bud Grant didn't get his veterans into camp until the players' strike moratorium began last Wednesday, while 34 of 48 Miami veterans reported early.

"The Dolphins were sharp," said Grant, adding that his veterans tired in their first-half workout and made execution errors.

"Those two reverses they ran were excellent," said Grant of a 58-yard scamper by Mel Baker and six-yard touchdown run by Nat Moore for the final Miami score of the game. "We haven't even given reverses to our players yet."

Both coaches went to their benches in the second half after fullback Larry Csonka had put the Dolphins ahead 14-0 on touchdown runs of one and three yards.

Minnesota, which didn't get past midfield in the first half, responded with a 27-yard field goal by Fred Cox and one-yard touchdown run by Dave Osborn behind the second-half play of rookie quarterback Mike Wells.

Wells, who completed seven of eight passes for 56 yards and ran five times for 37 more yards, left

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is according to the stars.

FOR WEDNESDAY
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Mars well-aspected. Business and financial interests especially favored. Some changes in the making are for the best.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Shore up sagging productivity, revise the format of programs which seem to get nowhere. A change of pace, direction, momentum may be the answer.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Your planets, in benefic configuration, urge continued interest in projects already started. Solid ventures can be advanced considerably. Sidestep distracting time-wasters.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Step up endeavors to meet competition that is working overtime. The extra try will be worth it.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Others are observing, some following your example. Your best foot forward! Stress vital points, but no exaggerating or cutting corners too close!

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): You can take giant steps toward advancement now—if you have the ambition and know-how. Don't launch into uncharted seas, however.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Don't make agreements with "strings" attached. You must be free to deviate from plans where advisable.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): An average day, but give some thought to future ventures. The p.m. hours will be excellent for following up on new contacts.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Jupiter in excellent aspect. A bit of daring could pay off now. Don't hesitate to try unique ideas, methods.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Some adverse influences, especially as related to financial affairs. Not a day for taking any chances with present assets.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Avoid current tendencies to scatter energies and to start too many things at one time. Neither enter into new activities without thorough investigation.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): You will face competition now, but it won't stymie you. Rather, it will prove a stimulating challenge. Get in there—and win!

Knee-Slapper

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Albany County foreclosed on the state Court of Appeals building and its own courthouse — to the embarrassment of County Attorney Bob Roach.

"When I said we will foreclose every bleeding piece of property with back taxes due, apparently somebody took me literally," Roach said.

Computers tallied a $16.80 water tax for the county building and a $37.92 water tax for the Court of Appeals building.

"It's a knee-slapper," he conceded. "But unfortunately it's just the type of thing that's been happening to me since the first of January when I started the job."

"I'm trying to get through to the chief judge now," he added.

City Students Reminded Of Dress Code

Circleville city schools students were reminded today by Superintendent Fritz Jacobs that the dress code adopted May 23 is in effect for this school term.

Circleville Schools Bus Routes Announced

Bus routes to provide pickup for students attending Circleville City Schools were announced today.

Superintendent Fritz F. Jacobs noted that some changes have been made to last year's routes and that all routes should be examined carefully to determine if the student is eligible and to determine the proper bus for transportation.

It has become necessary to run a bus from Circleville High School to the Joint Vocational School which has in turn necessitated some other route revision. Students attending the Vocational School will leave Circleville High School at 8:14 a.m. If they are normally transported to the High School they will then change buses to Bus No. 9 for transportation to the Vocational School. If they are not eligible for transportation to the High School, they will provide their own transportation to the High School and be transported from the High School to the Joint Vocational School by Bus No. 9, leaving at 8:14 a.m.

Student permit forms will be distributed by the driver on opening day and must be completed and returned to the driver the following day. Parent signatures are required on the rules and regulations procedures to be distributed by the driver and returned to the driver.
